“I was a 12 year old Cub Scout when I had my first flight in a Cessna,” says Norman Boxley, “That was a pivotal moment in my life... then and there I knew I wanted to fly.” Since 1981, when he first licensed, Norman has owned or rented a number of aircraft and logged around 1,200 hours in the air.

With offices in Pasadena, California and Las Vegas, Nevada, Attorney Norman Boxley, spoke to the inefficiencies of land and commercial transportation—and personal aircraft as a solution to his commuter problem. “A three to four hour drive or the inconvenience of the airline schedules were not favorable options,” claimed Boxley. “I turned to rentals as a solution, but there were not many high performance aircraft available and 115 MPH across the thermal turbulent desert sky was no fun either.”

When the 2000 Mooney Bravo became available, Norman saw the opportunity to resolve his transportation issue. “I generally fly out of the El Monte, California airport,” noted Boxley, “Before I actually purchased the Mooney, Larry Buchanan, an aircraft mechanic and broker, recommended that I contact Aero & Marine Tax Professionals for advice on how to minimize my sales tax exposure. It's not rocket science and I could have done it myself. But as the saying goes-I didn't want a fool for a client. I contacted Aero & Marine Tax Professionals before the purchase and followed their guidelines.”

Norman took delivery of his Mooney on September 23, 2007 in Scottsdale, Arizona. “Aero & Marine Tax Professionals is truly a user-friendly operation. I envisioned mountains of paperwork and spreadsheets. My consultant said 'nope-just send it all to me. That's my job,' added Boxley. “It's great anytime you can legally avoid paying sales tax. Aero & Marine Tax Professional saved me $30,000.00. Their fees were reasonable and a great value.”
