

“The savings will help fund some of the upgrades to the plane that I’m contemplating”

When Max Trescott, the 2008 National Flight Instructor of the Year and owner of Glass Cockpit Publishing, decided to purchase a Lake LA-4-200 amphibian airplane, he turned to Aero & Marine Tax Professionals to help him get an exemption from paying California sales tax.

Trescott stated “Tom Alston helped me obtain an exemption for my first aircraft eleven years ago, so I thought I understood the current rules. However, the regulations changed since my first purchase and I didn’t fully understand the changes. So I contacted Tom Alston again and he and his staff were quick to help me understand the current rules and the documentation needed. The savings will help fund some of the upgrades to the plane that I’m contemplating.”
