Kevin C., owner of a photography business in northern California, turned to Aero & Marine Tax Professionals for help in getting a sales tax exemption for the purchase of a Beechcraft A36 Bonanza.

Kevin C. said “We specialize in child & family photography, but once we got the airplane, we did two things – We were able to do some family & portrait shoots in more remote locations by meeting clients at their vacation destinations.”

“We did a couple shoots in Tahoe, for instance. Then I was able to expand our business by doing more commercial photo shoots for businesses – they were aviation oriented businesses and I was able to fly to them, meet with them, do the photo shoots and get more business that way. Having an airplane is kind of like a time machine. It has allowed us to meet with clients where there wouldn’t be time to do so otherwise. I would absolutely recommend Aero & Marine Tax Professionals for help in avoiding paying sales tax on an aircraft purchase,” concluded Kevin.
