

“This was our third transaction with Aero & Marine Tax Professionals. Our experience has been nothing but fantastic.”

When the owner of an beverage distribution company in the San Diego area needed to buy a new Cessna Citation Sovereign airplane, he turned to Aero & Marine Tax Professionals for help in getting a sales tax exemption for the purchase.

Josh, an executive of the company said “This was our third transaction with Aero & Marine Tax Professionals. Our experience has been nothing but fantastic. They take care of all the government filing & tax filing. I just give them all the paperwork that they need, make sure it’s on time, and give them the details that they need, and it’s all taken care of. The organization and knowledge that Aero & Marine has - it’s hard to find. They are organized, and they know what they’re looking for. There are no questions. There are no problems. If I do the job that they ask me to do, they do the job we ask them to do.”

“We purchased the aircraft to go between our sites all through the United States and Mexico. We can meet in person, and that would not ordinarily be possible. I would absolutely recommend Aero & Marine Tax Professionals any day!” concluded Josh.
