

“What we liked best about working with Aero & Marine Tax Pros was that they controlled the process. We didn’t have to worry about things.”

The owner of a maintenance parts manufacturing business in southern California turned to Aero & Marine Tax Professionals for help in getting a sales tax exemption for the purchase of a Hawker airplane.

The company owner said “We are in maintenance parts manufacturing. We needed to buy an aircraft due to expansion. We have facilities around the country that were not easy to get to. We are in 25 airports around the country. What we liked best about working with Aero & Marine Tax Pros was that they controlled the process. We didn’t have to worry about things. I would absolutely recommend them to others who are planning to buy an aircraft.”
